

Tips for Getting Around the Capitol

Parking: It is easiest to park in the Kleman Plaza (City Parking Garage) just northwest of (behind) the Capitol. You can enter the garage either traveling northbound on Duval Street or southbound on Bronough Street. This is a paid lot, but fees are reasonable.

You may also find a metered parking place on the side streets in and around the Capitol, although this can be iffy. If you get desperate, you may need to park at the Tallahassee-Leon Civic Center, which is a few blocks west of the Capitol on Pensacola Street.

Orientation: Facing the new Capitol in the courtyard between the old and new Capitols, the Senate Office building is on the left and the House Office building is on the right. The Knott building is just west of the Senate Office building and south of the Capitol.

All entrances from outside to the Capitol, Senate and House buildings are security monitored with metal detectors.

C = Capitol; H = House Office Building; S = Senate Office Building

Getting from Building to Building: You can limit your trips outside and through the metal detectors by using the “covered, connecting bridges” between the Capitol building and the House and Senate Office Buildings. The connecting bridges can be accessed on floors 2 and 3.

Capitol floor 2 also has a connecting bridge to the 4th floor of the Knott Building.

Getting from Floor to Floor: The elevators are very crowded during session. One button calls all the available elevators in the area, so be prepared to “dash” whenever a door opens.

Be aware that all elevators do not go to all floors, so read the signs before getting on the elevators.

Your best bet, if you don’t mind using “footpower,” is to use one of the many staircases around the Capitol Complex.

Information: You can obtain copies of any bills, upcoming/recent committee meeting packets, meeting calendars and member directories, free of charge, from the Documents rooms on the 3rd floor. The Senate Document room is on the Senate side of the Capitol; the House Document room is on the House side of the Capitol.

Viewing the House or Senate in Session: The public galleries for the House and Senate are located on the 5th floor of the Capitol. Check calendars to find out when these will occur.

Food: There are cafeterias on the lower level and 10th floor of the Capitol

Other: The view from the 22nd floor of the Capitol is very pleasant.
